TECH GOLF NOTEBOOK

INFORMATION

Georgia Tech's No. 4-ranked golf team, which earned an automatic bid to the NCAA Men's Golf Championship by winning the ACC Championship two weeks ago, and has been assigned to compete as the top seed in the Raleigh Regional, to be played May 14-16 at the Lonnie Poole Golf Course in Raleigh, N.C.

The Yellow Jackets are playing in an NCAA regional for the 21st straight year and for the 28th time in the 30 years the NCAA has used a regional qualifying format for its championship. They are part of a regional field that includes 14 teams and five individuals.

The Raleigh Regional will play host to eight teams listed among the nation's top 50 of the Golfstat rankings, including (in order of seed) California (9), Texas (16), Arizona State (21), Duke (28), NC State (36), Liberty (40), Missouri (45), Santa Clara (52), Campbell (56), Middle Tennessee State (74), Augusta (111), Davidson (198) and Iona (268). Liberty, MTSU, Augusta, Davidson and Iona, as well as the Jackets, qualified automatically by winning their conference tournaments.

Tech is playing in Raleigh for the second time, having been the No. 1 seed in 2014 with a team led by four current Tour pros in Anders Albertson, Ollie Schniederjans, Seth Reeves and Richy Werenski. The Yellow Jackets won that regional by 17 strokes over Washington, one of seven tournament victories for Tech that year, and reached match play at the NCAA Championship in Hutchinson, Kan., for the fourth time in five years.

Tech in NCAA Regional Competition

Georgia Tech has advanced through an NCAA regional 23 times in 27 tries, and all but three times since the NCAA went to a six-regional qualifying format in 2009. Head coach Bruce Heppler's teams have won five regional tournaments outright, most recently in 2014, and tied for one other.

The NCAA began using regional qualifying tournaments in 1989, first with the 81 teams split among three sites (27 teams each), then with six sites with either 13 or 14 teams each beginning in 2009. Since the NCAA went to six regional sites in 2009, Tech has finished third (Bowling Green, Ky.), third (Milton, Ga.), tied for third (Radford, Va.), sixth/did not advance (Norman, Okla.), fourth (Tallahassee, Fla.), first (Raleigh, N.C.), third (San Diego) and tied for seventh/did not advance (Tucson).

Tech's first four victories all occurred in 27-team regionals in 1991 (New Haven, Conn.), 1998 (Daufuskie Island, S.C.), 1999 (Providence, R.I.) and 2002 (Roswell, Ga., tied with Clemson). Only the 2014 win occurred in a 13-team field.

Team Update

Georgia Tech remains No. 4 in the latest Golfstat rankings and No. 8 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Index after winning the ACC Championship. The Yellow Jackets also have a victory at the General James Hackler Championship this spring, along with a third-place finish at the Irish Creek Intercollegiate, a fifth-place finish at the Amer Ari Invitational in Hawaii and fourth-place finishes at the Puerto Rico Classic and the Valspar Collegiate. Tech posted a pair of wins and a runner-up finish in four fall events.

Tech's four tournament wins this year have broken a two-year victory drought for the program.

Tech owns a 113-16-4 overall win-loss record this year against a schedule ranked the 14th most difficult in the country, according to the Golfweek/Sagarin Index. That includes a 55-16-4 mark against top-50 teams. The Yellow Jackets have been remarkably consistent and balanced in its lineup, ranking third nationally in lowest dropped score (75.09), and only three individuals have finished outside the top 50 in nine tournaments in 2017-18.

Jackets Earn Auto Bid with ACC Title

Georgia Tech earned an automatic invitation to the NCAA regional by winning the Atlantic Coast Conference Championship

April 20-22 in New London, N.C.

It was the 17th ACC title in program history, 12th under current head coach Bruce Heppler and the Yellow Jackets' ninth in the last 13 years.

The Jackets also accomplished winning the title without having a single individual finish in the top 10 - sophomores Luke Schniederjans and Tyler Strafaci tied for 12th. That had happened only once before in conference history, in 1990, when NC State shared the title with Clemson, and its highest finisher (Doug Stone) placed 11th.

Tech Lineup

Georgia Tech has played the same six players in nearly every event this season with few exceptions, and all six are ranked between No. 49 and No. 103 in the latest Golfstat rankings - Noah Norton (49), Tyler Strafaci (53), Luke Schniederjans (65), Jacob Joiner (87), Chris Petefish (94) and Andy Ogletree (103). Among those, Petefish has the lone individual victory this year, that coming at the General Hackler Championship. They have 12 combined top-10 finishes and all six average between 71.52 and 72.89 strokes per round.

Norton, a freshman from Chico Calif., leads the Yellow Jackets with four top-10 finishes, including a tie for second at the General Hackler Championship this spring, and is second on the team with a stroke average of 71.56. Strafaci, a sophomore from Davie, Fla., has the Jackets' best stroke average at 71.52, with a pair of top-10 finishes and a tie for 12th at the ACC Championship. Schniederjans, a sophomore from Powder Springs, Ga., ranks third on Tech's team with a 71.77 stroke average, has six top-20 finishes this year and also tied for 12th at the ACC Championship. Petefish, whose birdie on the 18th hole in the final round clinched the ACC title for the Yellow Jackets, is the team's only tournament winner this year, having won the General Hackler.

Norton, who missed the Irish Creek event with a back injury, returned for the ACC Championship but struggled to a 43rd-place finish, yet still is the Jackets' highest-ranked individual. Joiner was the odd man out for the ACC Championship and is again for the NCAA regional, as only five players can compete per team.

All five Tech individuals at the Valspar finished between 13th (Norton, Ogletree) and 31st place, four of the five placed between first and 22nd at the Hackler (Petefish, Norton, Ogletree, Schniederjans), and Norton, Petefish and Strafaci all tied for seventh at Puerto Rico. At Irish Creek, all five finished between 12th and 30th place. At the ACC Championship, Tech won despite having no player finish higher than 12th.

Four Jackets Earn All-ACC Honors

Noah Norton, Chris Petefish, Luke Schniederjans and Tyler Strafaci were named to the All-Atlantic Coast Conference Men's Golf Team

Schniederjans earned the honor for the second time. While Norton, Petefish and Strafaci made the team for the first time. They led the Yellow Jackets to the 2018 ACC Championship and three other tournament victories this year.

Norton (ranked No. 49 in Golfstat and No. 63 in Golfstat), Strafaci (53/64) and Schniederjans (65/82) earned automatic spots on the team with their national ranking. Petefish, ranked No. 93 in Golfstat and No. 94 in Golfweek/Sagarin, earned his way onto the team via a vote of the ACC's 12 coaches.

This is the 24th time since 1985 that Tech has had multiple players make the All-ACC team, and the four honorees are the most for Tech since 2011. The selections of Norton, Petefish and Strafaci bring to 36 the number of Yellow Jacket golfers who have made the All-ACC team at least once during their careers. Tech's 70 all-time All-ACC selections trail only Clemson and Wake Forest, who are charter members of the conference.

Heppler Named ACC Coach of the Year

Georgia Tech Bruce Heppler was named ACC Coach of the Year for the ninth time in his 23-year tenure on The Flats.

In leading the Yellow Jackets to the 2018 ACC title, the 17th in program history, Heppler was named ACC Coach of the Year for the ninth time in his 23-year tenure on The Flats.

Tech's four tournament victories this year bring to 53 the total number of titles earned by the Jackets under Heppler, whose nine conference coach of the year honors are the most for any coach since 1980. He has coached Tech to 12 of its 17 ACC titles.

Tee Shots

- With its No. 4 ranking in Golfstat, Georgia Tech has earned a top seed in an NCAA regional for the first time since 2014, when it won the Raleigh Regional and advanced to NCAA Championship match play. The Yellow Jackets finished that season ranked No. 2 in Golfstat, No. 4 in Golfweek/Sagarin. Tech has been ranked as high as No. 3 this year, most recently on March 31.

- According to the Golfweek/Sagarin ratings, Tech has faced the 14th-most difficult schedule in Division I -- Tech went 29-13-2 vs. the nation's top 25 teams, 55-16-4 vs. the top 50, 87-16-4 vs. the top 100.

- Tech has faced nine of the 13 other teams in the NCAA Raleigh Regional field at some point during the 2017-18 season, and has a combined 16-2 head-to-head mark against them. The Jackets finished fourth behind second-place Texas by six strokes in its own Golf Club of Georgia Collegiate and finished second by one stroke to Arizona State at the Maui Jim Intercollegiate, both in the fall.

- Tech is 10-5 head-to-head against the five teams ahead of the Jackets in the Golfweek/Sagarin rankings, including a 4-0 mark against LSU.

- Tech ranks third in the nation in lowest drop score (75.09), according to Golfstat. Only three individuals have finished out of the top 50 in any event this year.

- Tech finished first (General Hackler Championship), fourth (Valspar Collegiate) and third (Irish Creek Intercollegiate) in its three most recent events leading into the ACC Championship, but no higher than fifth in any event prior to that in 2017-18.

- Collectively, Tech's team has compiled 13 individual top-10 finishes, four of them by freshman Noah Norton, two each by Strafaci, Petefish and Joiner. However, Tech also won the ACC Championship without having a player finish higher than 12th.

- Tech has three individuals in its lineup this week who have won collegiate titles. Petefish won the General Hackler Championship earlier this spring. Luke Schniederjans captured the Carpet Capital Collegiate and the Puerto Rico Classic as a freshman last year, and Tyler Strafaci won the Valspar Collegiate.

- All five of Tech's players competing this week are ranking among the nation's top 103 players according to Golfstat, with

TECH GOLF NOTEBOOK

Ogletree being the lowest at No. 103.

- Georgia Tech's collective average team score of 283.63 is more than two strokes better than last year's team, which finished at 286.10, and more than six shots better than the 2015-16 team (290.14). Its team winning percentage of .882 is far better than last year's .698.

- According to Golfstat national statistical rankings, Tech is No. 1 in par-3 scoring (3.10), No. 16 in par-5 scoring (4.69) and No. 16 in par-4 scoring (4.09). Besides their low average drop score (third in the nation), the Jackets further demonstrate their consistently solid play by ranking No. 4 in fewest bogeys per round and No. 9 in fewest double-bogeys per round.

Tech Signs Three in Class of 2018

Three highly-regarded junior golfers from the class of 2018 – Bartley Forrester of Gainesville, Ga., Connor Howe of Ogden, Utah, and Luka Karaulic of Lawrenceville, Ga. – have signed national letters-of-intent to play at Georgia Tech beginning next fall.

Forrester is ranked No. 76th nationally in the class of 2018 Golfweek boys rankings. He has finished in the top 25 in seven of 12 junior events since April of 2017, including a ninth-place finish in the 2017 Georgia Junior Amateur Championship in Statesboro, Ga. (1-over-par 217). Named to the GHSA AAAAA all-state team in 2016 as a member of the North Hall High School team, Forrester was medalist at GHSA region 8AAAA championship in 2015 and 2016 and was the medalist at the class 3A Area 3 championship in 2018.

Howe is ranked No. 51 in the Class of 2018 and 168th overall by Golfweek. He is listed No. 110 in the class of 2018 (No. 2 in the state of Utah) and 190th overall by the Junior Golf Scoreboard. He won the AJGA Hale Irwin Junior this year and recently captured his second straight Class 5A Utah High School State Championship. In 2015, he shot a state-record 62 in that event.

Karaulic is ranked No. 214 in the class of 2018 (No. 7 in Georgia) and No. 347 overall by the Junior Golf Scoreboard, as well as No. 378 in Golfweek's boys rankings. In six junior events over the past year, Karaulic's best performance was a 10th place finish at the AJCA Under Armour/Hunter Mahan Championship. He had top-25 showings in the AJGA Junior at RiverWatch and the AJGA Davis Love III Junior Open.

Six Jackets Qualify for the U.S. Amateur

Rising seniors Chris Petefish and Jacob Joiner, rising sophomores Andy Ogletree, Luke Schniederjans and Tyler Strafaci, and incoming freshman Noah Norton all made the field for the 117th U.S. Amateur at Riviera Country Club in Pacific Palisades, Calif.

Petefish was the first to qualify, winning his sectional on July 6 in Salix, Pa., followed by Joiner, who won his sectional on July 17 in Decatur, Ala. Schniederjans and Ogletree earned spots two days later in the qualifier in Milton, Ga., with Schniederjans winning medalist honors there. In the final week of qualifying events around the country, Norton shot 71-67 to grab one of the three spots available in Seaside, Calif. Strafaci shot rounds of 67-66 to win his sectional which offered just two spots.

Norton, Ogletree and Strafaci all qualified for match play, with Norton reaching the round of 16 and Strafaci winning his first-round match. Norton was the first Tech golfer since 2014 to reach the round of 16.

The six qualifiers matched the most for any Tech team. Six members of the Yellow Jackets' 2013 unit (which won six tournaments and reached NCAA match play three times) – Anders Albertson, Bo Andrews, Michael Hines, Seth Reeves, Ollie Schniederjans and Richy Werenski – qualified for the U.S. Amateur, which was held that year at The Country Club in Brookline, Mass. Andrews, Reeves and Werenski all advanced to match play. Five players from Tech's 1999 team – Carlton Forrester, Matt Kuchar, Wes Latimer, Bryce Molder and Matt Weibring (a group which would accumulate 19 tournament wins and three top-5 NCAA finishes) – along with alumnus and 1985 ACC Champion Bob McDonnell as well as future Tech All-American Nicholas Thompson in the field at Pebble Beach Golf Links.

Tech Golf APR Perfect for 12th Straight Year

Bruce Hepler's golf program again earned a perfect four-year APR score of 1000 for the four-year period ending in the 2015-16 academic year in the NCAA's survey announced last May 10. The Yellow Jackets have earned a perfect four-year score every year since its inception in 2006, and has also received an APR Public Recognition Award every year. Among Power 5 conferences, the Yellow Jackets are one of two men's golf teams and 14 programs overall that have earned all 12 Public Recognition Awards.

The APR measures eligibility, graduation and retention each term and provides a clear picture of the academic performance for each team in every sport.

The APR is an annual scorecard of academic achievement calculated for all Division I sports teams nationally. The most recent APR scores are based on the four-year period ending with the 2015-16 academic year. This year marks the 12th year of APR data for most teams.

Tech's NCAA Championship History

Georgia Tech has reached the NCAA Championship finals 27 times since 1985 (28th time in program history), which is tied for fourth most in that time period behind Oklahoma State (31), Florida (30), Arizona State (29) and Texas (28). Tech has posted nine top-8 finishes in the last 14 tries. (Tech played in NCAA regionals in 2008, 2012 and 2015 but did not advance.)

The Yellow Jackets tied for 10th in 2009, the first-year of the stroke-play/match-play format, but qualified for match play each of the next four times they have advanced to the NCAA Championship (third in 2010, second in 2011, second in 2013, fifth in 2014). Tech did not advance out of its regional in 2012 or 2016.

Tech lost to the eventual champion three times in its first three forays into match play – Augusta State by the score of 3-2 in the quarterfinals in 2010 and 2011 and to Alabama (3-0-2) in 2013.

Tech has been the runner-up in the NCAA Championship four times (1993, 2000, 2002 and 2005, all before the advent of match play), more than any team in the history of the championship except Houston, Michigan, Texas and Wake Forest, who also have four, and Oklahoma State, which has five.

In 1993 and 2002, the Yellow Jackets led after 54 holes, but finished second by one shot to Florida in 1993, and by four shots to Minnesota in 2002.

In 2000, the Yellow Jackets rallied to tie Oklahoma State after 72 holes, but lost to the Cowboys on the first hole of a playoff. Tech and OSU matched the lowest 72-hole team score in NCAA Championship history (36-under-par 1,116) at the Grand National Lake Course in Opelika, Ala. In 2005, Tech finished 11 shots behind Georgia, and seven shots ahead of third-place Washington.

Since Bruce Hepler became Tech's coach, the Jackets have finished in the top eight 11 times.

Three Tech players have won national collegiate championships. Troy Matteson did it most recently in 2002 at Ohio State. Watts Gunn (1927) and Charlie Yates (1934) won national titles under a match play format before the NCAA took sponsorship of the championship in 1939.

Other top-10 finishers for Tech include David Duval (runner-up in 1991 and 1993, T-8 in 1990), Bill McDonald (T-2 in 1988), Bunky Henry (2nd in 1967), Roberto Castro (3rd in 2005), Nacho Gervas (T-3 in 1986), Paul Haley (T9 in 2010), Kris Mikkelsen (T-4 in 2001), Stewart Cink (T-5 in 1994), Bryce Molder (6th in 1998), Matt Weibring (6th in 2000), James White (T8 in 2011) and Ollie Schniederjans (T8 in 2013 and 2nd in 2015).

Tech and NCAA Match Play

The 2009 NCAA Championship featured a new twist with the team champion determined via match play. The top eight teams after 54 holes of stroke play advance to a match play tournament format.

The NCAA added a fourth round of stroke play in 2016 for the top 15 teams and nine individuals not on those teams, after which the national individual champion and the top eight teams for match play will be determined.

Match play a format that Bruce Hepler has supported vigorously. Under Hepler, Georgia Tech finished in the top eight of the NCAA Finals seven times in 10 tries under the 72-hole, stroke-play format. Tech is one of only two teams (Oklahoma State is the other) to have advanced to match play four times in the six years the current format has been in effect.

In the stroke-play/match play era, the Yellow Jackets have finished 10th, third, second, second and fifth, respectively, in the stroke-play portion the NCAA Championship in five tries (Tech did not advance out of its regional in 2012 or 2016). Tech lost to the eventual national champion three of the four times has qualified for match play (Augusta State in the 2010 and 2011 quarterfinals, Alabama in the 2013 semifinals).

Tech has had success in other match-play events in recent years, reaching the finals of the Callaway Collegiate Match Play Championship four times in six appearances.

Georgia Tech Match Play History

While match play in college golf may be infrequent, Georgia Tech is no stranger to it, having participated in six regular season match play events since 2001, as well as three times in the five years the NCAA has utilized match play to determine its champion. Here is a history of Tech's participation.

2017 Cypress Point Classic - d. Georgia, 8.5-3.5, d. Stanford, 8-4, l. Southern California, 19.5-4.5
2016 FarmLinks Collegiate Match Play Championship - l. Vanderbilt, 4-1-1, l. Alabama, 3-2-1

Tech's ACC Championship History

With its two-shot victory over Clemson in 2018, Georgia Tech has won nine of the last 13 Atlantic Coast Conference championships.

Tech's 17 ACC men's golf titles in history ranks second among conference schools behind Wake Forest (18). Tech has won 12 of its conference titles under current head coach Bruce Hepler, 10 of those outright (1999, 2001, 2002, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2014, 2015, 2018) and two shared (2006, 2007). The Yellow Jackets won five championships (1985, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994) under previous head coach Puggy Blackmon.

Eleven of Tech's ACC titles have occurred at the Old North State Club, the first occurring in 1999 by 10 strokes over North Carolina and Duke. Tech won the 2011 crown with a tournament record score of 831 (-33) and by a record 20 strokes. Tech won its 2018 crown without an individual finishing higher than 12th place.

23rd Year at Tech

ACC Coach of the Year 8 times

12 ACC Championships

16 NCAA Finals Appearances

If a consistently high level of success over a long period of time is the measure of a great program, then Georgia Tech's golf program under Bruce Heppler would certainly meet the standard. His peers recognized this in 2013 when they inducted him into the Golf Coaches Association of America Hall of Fame.

Tech's recent run of Atlantic Coast Conference championships and NCAA Championship finals performances are unprecedented in school history - nine Atlantic Coast Conference titles in the last 13 years and four trips to match play at the NCAA Championship in the last eight years.

Heppler has guided the Yellow Jackets to an NCAA regional every year since 1998, while 16 of those teams advanced to the NCAA Finals, and 11 finished in the top eight, including three runner-up showings.

During his tenure, Tech has won or shared 12 Atlantic Coast Conference titles. Only two ACC coaches have led their teams to more ACC titles than has Heppler. The Yellow Jackets have captured or shared 53 team titles overall.

He was named ACC Coach of the Year in 2018 for the ninth time, more than any ACC coach from 1980 forward.

Since 2000, the Yellow Jackets have finished in the top 10 of the final Golfstat rankings 11 times, and in the final Golfweek/Sagarin top 10 a total of 13 times. Tech did not finish lower than 14th in either ranking in any year from 2000 to 2015.

In a July, 2015 poll of his coaching peers conducted by Golfweek magazine, Heppler ranked No. 3. His program was ranked No. 2 among College Factual's ranking of the best colleges to play golf, taking into account both the quality of the golf team, as well as the academic success of the players and the quality of the school.

Heppler has recruited and developed his share of star players as well. The Yellow Jackets have had at least a pair of All-Atlantic Coast Conference honorees in 18 of the last 20 years, and landed four members of the team on the squad three times (2005, 2011, 2018). Tech has had at least two players earn All-America honors 14 of the last 17 years, and Ollie Schniederjans became the program's 20th and 21st first-team selections in his junior and senior years. Three of his players, Matt Kuchar, Bryce Molder and Troy Matteson, have been named national player of the year.

Eleven of Heppler's players are currently active members of either the PGA Tour or the Web.com Tour, with several other recent graduates climbing their way up through the other professional tours.

Heppler has been named to coach the United States team in the Palmer Cup twice, in 2003 and 2015, and eight of his players have also represented the USA in that annual event.

Kuchar, Molder, Nicholas Thompson and Cameron Tringale have represented the United States in the Walker Cup matches. Twice, in 1998 and 2013, five or more of the Heppler's active Tech players have qualified to play in the U.S. Amateur. Six of Tech's seven returning players in 2013 competed in that year's U.S. Amateur in Brookline, Mass., an unprecedented feat.

On the conference level since 1985, when the Yellow Jackets won their first ACC Championship, Tech has earned more NCAA Championship berths than any team except Clemson. The Jackets have earned more top-10, more top-5 and more top-2 finishes in NCAA Championship competition than any other ACC team. Tech also has had more All-America selections (63) than any other ACC team during the same period except the Tigers.

His players have been just as successful in the classroom. Tech's golf program has been recognized with a perfect Academic Progress Report score of 1000 for 12 straight years, and every senior has graduated.

Twenty-one different players under Heppler have been named All-America Scholars (a total of 36 times) by the Golf Coaches Association of America, which requires a minimum 3.2 GPA and participation in at least 75 percent of a team's events. Two, All-Americans Bryce Molder and Roberto Castro, received the NCAA's Top VIII Award, an honor given to eight student-athletes from all sports each year and recognizes those who excel in their sport and in the classroom, and exhibit high character, leadership and service to others.

It didn't take long for Heppler to restore the glory to Tech's golf program following a couple of lean years in the mid-1990s. After recruiting future All-Americans Kuchar and Molder, Heppler had the Yellow Jackets back in the NCAA Tournament in his third season, where they finished third, just four shots off the lead. Tech also was ranked No. 1 in the nation during the course of the year and won the NCAA East Regional.

Even better things were to come as Tech captured the first of its ACC titles under Heppler in 1999. In 2000 the Yellow Jackets came the closest to an NCAA Championship in their history, tying for first after 72 holes with Oklahoma State before losing a one-hole playoff. On the year, Tech captured four team titles and finished in the top four in each event it entered.

During the 2001 campaign, the Jackets won their second ACC crown in three years, the second under Heppler, captured a school-record-tying five tournament wins during the year and finished fourth in the NCAA Championship. For his efforts, Heppler was named ACC Coach of the

PLAYERS & STAFF

Year and guided three All-Americans in Molder, who was also the consensus National Player of the Year, Matteson and Kris Mikkelsen.

In 2002, Heppler led the Yellow Jackets to arguably the best season in school history, as Tech captured seven team titles and finished second at the NCAA Championship. In the process, Heppler earned National and ACC Coach of the Year honors. During the year, the Jackets won the school's eighth ACC title, while placing all five starters on GCAA All-America teams. Under Heppler's tutelage, Matteson became the third Tech player to win the national individual title.

Tech has dominated the Atlantic Coast Conference in recent years, winning eight of the last 12 titles and six of the last nine. The Yellow Jackets have been to the NCAA Tournament every year since 1998, and only four times in that period failed to advance out of a regional. In the eight years the NCAA has conducted the current medal/match play format for the championship, Tech has advanced to match play four times.

A 57-year-old native of St. George, Utah, Heppler has demonstrated his strength as a recruiter by attracting both National Players of the Year during 1997-98 and the ACC Players of the Year for 1998, 1999, 2000 and 2001. His first recruit at Tech was Kuchar, who won the 1997 U.S. Amateur Championship and was named the ACC Player of the Year and the Fred Haskins National Player of the Year in 1998. Molder was the Jack Nicklaus Player of the Year in 1998 and in 2001, along with being named the ACC Player of the Year in 1999, 2000 and 2001.

Heppler, a dean's list student at Brigham Young, earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from BYU in 1985, and later received his master's degree in sport management from Massachusetts in 1988. He played golf for one year at Dixie Junior College in St. George before transferring to Brigham Young.

He became a certified public accountant in 1985 and spent one year in the firm of Huber and Associates in Salt Lake City, then began his collegiate coaching career in 1987 as the men and women's golf coach at Amherst. He then spent two years as an administrative assistant at UNLV, becoming the assistant men's golf coach at UNLV in 1989. He spent two years in that role before moving to Oklahoma State in 1991.

"Georgia Tech is a great fit for me," said Heppler. "This is one of the five or six best programs right now if you look around at college golf's successful teams since the '90s. We have a lot of alumni on the PGA Tour, which is great for the school. Young people can see they have a chance to be player of the year or win a national championship here. It's a great school academically, which is a real draw with the general pool of talent out there interested in playing college golf."

Heppler is married to the former Traci Schull of Southbury, Conn., and they have a son, Zakary, and a daughter, Moriah. Heppler is actively involved with Atlanta Alliance for Children and is a member of the Golf Coaches Association of America.

DREW MCGEE

Assistant Coach
2nd year at Tech
Baylor, 2012

Drew McGee, joined the Georgia Tech golf program as assistant coach in July of 2016 after a two-year stint as assistant coach at the University of New Mexico.

McGee, 27, assists head coach Bruce Heppler in the areas of operations, scheduling, recruiting, academics and fund-raising. Jeff Pierce, who spent the 2015-16 year as Heppler's full-time assistant coach, transitioned into a volunteer coaching role and continues to assist with instruction.

"We're excited for Drew to be part of our program," said Heppler. "Drew was involved in every aspect of the New Mexico program and was successful in their recruiting efforts. He came highly recommended and is highly-regarded by many of the coaches on the West Coast."

During his two years at New Mexico, McGee helped guide the Lobos to three tournament victories, two NCAA regional tournament appearances and a second-place finish in the Mountain West Conference Championship in 2016. Four Lobos won individual tournament titles, while five members of the team made the all-MWC team, and one was named Mountain West Player of the Year. McGee also served as co-director of the Lobo Junior Golf Camps.

"I am very excited to join Coach Heppler and the Georgia Tech golf program," said McGee. "I am also grateful for my time at New Mexico and the chance to work with Coach (Glen) Millican. I believe that my experience there has prepared me well for this tremendous opportunity. Coach Heppler has created a tradition of success both on the course and in the classroom, and I look forward to working with him and the players to build on that success. Georgia Tech is definitely a special place and I am thankful to be here."

Prior to accepting an assistant's position at New Mexico, McGee was head coach of the men's and women's teams at NAIA Northwood College in Cedar Hill, Texas, for the spring of 2014. Northwood's teams broke two scoring records under McGee during his tenure, and the women's team finished 10th in the 2014 NAIA Championships in Lincoln, Neb. That spring, he received the NAIA's Champion of Character Award.

McGee began his coaching career as a volunteer assistant in 2013 at McNeese State.

McGee is a 2012 graduate of Baylor University with a bachelor's degree in business administration and was a three-year letter winner for coach Greg Priest. McGee was a member of the Big XII Commissioner's honor roll.

He was a four-year letterwinner for head coaches Ronnie Jones and Jeff Williamson at Graham (Texas) High School. McGee led the Steers to back-to-back state runner-up finishes in 2005 and 2006 before helping Graham strike gold with a state championship in 2008. McGee was a first-team all-district, all-region and all-state performer his senior year. His sister Anna is a volleyball player at Texas Women's University.
